CEMA Awards Rules and Regulations

1. Award plaques will be given to winning entrants in print, radio, television and internet in each category as outlined on page 3.
2. Eligibility:
 - Competition is open to all legitimate news and information media published or broadcast in Canada.
 - Content of the work submitted should clearly relate to and reflect Canada's multicultural diversity and/or ethnocultural communities in Canada.
 - All work must be original, and listings of coming events or other like information submitted by others will not be accepted.
 - A contestant may submit his/her own entry or be nominated by a third party.
 - Entries must have been published or broadcast between the dates of January 1, 2009 and December 31, 2009. Date of publication or broadcast must be clearly marked on the submission.
 - Entries can be in any language, but all entries in languages other than English or French must be accompanied by a brief synopsis in either English or French. If needed, CEMA will arrange for the translation of the work submitted.
 - Entries must contain three (3) copies of each piece of work submitted. That is to say, three copies of any article, or oral tape or videotape or printout from a web site published or broadcast between January 1, 2009 and December 31, 2009
3. Judging: Awards will be independently juried and made on the basis of excellence and Canadian content of entries. Awards are not given to an entire program or publication, however excellent it may be, but to a person for an individual submission or a series as defined in the categories on page 3.
4. Rights: By entering the Awards, you, as the entrant and/or nominee CEMA rights for publication of the winning entries or excerpts therefrom. All submitted entries will not be returned.
5. Entry Fee: A cheque or money order for $5.00 must accompany each entry. Make cheques out to "Canadian Ethnic Media Association" (CEMA).
6. Deadline: Submissions must be postmarked no later than September 7, 2010.
7. The winning entries will be announced at the CEMA Awards Ceremony on November 6, 2010.
